

DNR stated that the lights meet and exceed US Coast Guard standards which are used everywhere. It is a boater's responsibility to understand water navigation language. There are no plans to change the lighting at the bridges